From Saturday May 27. to Tuesday May 30. 1710.

St. James's, May 29.

THE following Addreſs from the Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes of Ireland, in Parliament aſſembled, having been tranſmitted by his Excellency the Earl of Wharton, Lord Lieutenant of that Kingdom, was preſented to her Majeſty by the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Sunderland, one of her Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State.

To the Queen's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes in Parliament Aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament aſſembled, cannot meet without acknowledging your Majeſty's great Favour and Goodneſs which calls us together, and humbly begging Leave to aſſure your Majeſty that we ſhall, with all becoming Chearfulneſs and Gratitude, endeavour to anſwer the Ends of this our Meeting.

We do, at the ſame time, in the moſt dutiful and humble manner, congratulate your Majeſty upon the great and early Succeſſes of your Majeſty's Arms in the preſent Campaign, under the Conduct of your Renowned and Victorious General the Duke of Marlborough, which open to us a Proſpect of further Victories, or of ſuch a laſting and honourable Peace, as we may juſtly promiſe our ſelves from thoſe already gained.

As the Glory of your Majeſty's Arms Abroad, and the Wiſdom and Juſtice of your Adminiſtration at Home, make us regard your Majeſty as the greateſt and beſt of Princes; ſo we are reſolved to embrace all Opportunities of ſhewing our ſelves the moſt dutiful and loyal of Subjects.

And to the end that as much as in us lies we may convey to our Poſterity thoſe ineſtimable Bleſſings, reſtored to us by the late happy Revolution, and continued and improved under your Majeſty's moſt Auſpicious Reign, we ſhall be ready to hazard all that is dear and valuable to us in the Defence and Support of your Majeſty's moſt ſacred Perſon and Government, of our preſent happy Conſtitution, and the Church as by Law Eſtabliſhed, and of the Succeſſion in the Proteſtant Line, as the ſame ſtands ſettled by Acts of Parliament lately made in England.

Dublin, May 23. Yeſterday in the Afternoon the Houſe of Commons attended his Excellency the Lord-Lieutenant with the following Addreſs.

To his Excellency Thomas Earl of Wharton, Lord-Lieutenant-General, and General Governor of Ireland.

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes in Parliament aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE her Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to return our humble and hearty Thanks for your Excellency's Speech to both Houſes of Parliament.

Your Excellency's Eminent Zeal for her Majeſty's Service and Government, your generous Concern for our happy Eſtabliſhment in Church and State, your diſtinguiſhed Regard to the Rights and Liberties even of the leaſt Subject, and your particular Care of the Intereſt and Welfare of her Majeſty's faithful Subjects, the Proteſtants of this Kingdom, create in us a juſt and grateful Senſe of her Majeſty's Royal Care of us, and Goodneſs towards us, in giving us this Opportunity of meeting again, under your Excellency's Adminiſtration, to conſider of, and provide what may be yet neceſſary for our Happineſs and Security.

Her Majeſty's Satisfaction in the Diſpatch of the publick Buſineſs received at our laſt Meeting, her Approbation of the Care that was taken of the true Intereſt of this Kingdom, her Readineſs to conſent to thoſe good Bills that were and ſhall be tranſmitted to her, and that Notice ſhe is pleaſed to take of the Chearfulneſs with which we gave the Supplies laſt Seſſion, increaſe our Duty, Zeal and Affection to her Royal Perſon and Government; which we ſhall endeavour to demonſtrate by our readineſs in giving ſuch Supplies as ſhall appear to be neceſſary to enable her Majeſty to Support the Eſtabliſhment Honourably, to comply with the humble Applications we have made to her, and to carry on that Work and provide thoſe Stores which we have judged proper for the Defence and Security of this her Kingdom; the State of all which will, we doubt not, be fully and faithfully laid before us, according to your Excellency's Direction.

That Union among our ſelves which your Excellency recommends, and which her Majeſty hath ſo much at her Heart, is in it ſelf ſo agreeable to the Nature of every well-diſpoſed Mind, and ſo evidently neceſſary to our own Happineſs and Security, that we aſſure your Excellency we ſhall uſe our utmoſt Endeavours to diſappoint, and defeat the Hopes of thoſe that wiſh to create Animoſities or Diviſions among us.

We are fully ſatisfied that our Eſtabliſhed Church, of which her ſacred Majeſty is the brighteſt Ornament, is in a ſafe and flouriſhing Condition; and it is with great Pleaſure we ſee it ſo happily and effectually ſecured to us and our Poſterity by the Laws now in Force, by the Wiſdom of her Majeſty's Councils, and the glorious Succeſſes of her Arms, that nothing but Folly or Malice can inſinuate its being in Danger from her Majeſty's Adminiſtration, or the Succeſſion in the Illuſtrious Houſe of Hanover.

We moſt gratefully acknowledge that our Civil Rights and Liberties muſt be ſecure to us under our Queen, who hath from the beginning of her Reign to this Day moſt glorioufly eſpouſed and vindicated, not only the Rights of her own People, but the Liberty of Europe in general.

The Conſideration of theſe ineſtimable Bleſſings fill our Hearts with ſuch inward Joy and Satisfaction, as leaves no room for any Fears or Jealouſies to diſtract our Minds, or diſturb our Happineſs; nor ſhall any Strife or Contention appear among us, but a generous Emulation to give the moſt convincing Proofs of that Duty and Loyalty that becomes the beſt of Subjects to the beſt of Princes, and of our Conſtant Zeal and Affection to the Church and Proteſtant Succeſſion by Law Eſtabliſhed.

Copenhagen, May 27. N. S. Monſieur Lecke, the Maſter of the Ceremonies, and Secretary to the Orders of the Elephant and Danebrog, is made a Commiſſioner of the Treaſury; and it is believed, that Monſieur Wybourg, the late Envoy at Vienna, will ſucceed him in his former Employments. The Prince-Royal is now Sick of the Meaſles; but is paſt all Danger. Laſt Week the Courier whom the King ſent three Months ſince to the Czar, returned to this Court, together with an Officer in the Muſcovite Service. Since their Arrival the Ruſſian Ambaſſador hath had ſeveral Audiences of his Majeſty, and been frequently in Conference with his Miniſters. It is obſerved, that they are very well pleaſed with
